The sister ship of Yamazaki NO.9 Yamazaki NO.7 has been heavily damaged by enemy fighters and torpedoes. But the ship suffered no damage of external, no one died and only No.4 gunner killed of 100-thousand. The ship made a rapid turn and was heading south. The ship traveled south for nearly 40,000 meters and they headed east. Suddenly the foe ship attacked the Yamazaki NO.7 from behind. The following cannons fire and the ship rocked back and forth from the shots. After some time, the Yamazaki NO.7 was hit by a torpedo in the aft. However, it seems that the torpedo was released from a distance of more than 10,000 meters. Then the ship was rolling back to the enemies. From that time, the crew's activity was unusual and the flight control room was in chaos. It was found that there is an unknown signal leaked from the control room and the Yamazaki NO.7 came back. The battle that continued for a while Tora! Tora! Tora! When you go to the mission about the "Tora! Tora! Tora!" where the problem of the Yamazaki NO.7 occurred, you must transfer to the ship "Yamazaki NO.7". Now you can go to other missions from your starting location. And control the other Yamazaki NO.6 and Yamazaki NO.9 Yamazaki NO.9 Saejima NO.5 was attacked by the enemy of sea and the ship is thrown into fire. And the ship started running to the west and ended up leaving the player's range. However, the attack was interrupted by the Fujishima NO.2 carrying space and the fire was extinguished. Player will go to other missions from their starting location, and control a Yamazaki NO.9. Fujishima NO.2 The ship Fujishima NO.2 was found in a place of unusual gravity, it was somehow already deployed in the space. The ship is light and can withstand the attacks of the space. A number of missiles and shells flew over the spaceship and one missile penetrated inside the ship. The player can go to other missions from their starting location, and control the Fujishima NO.2, and go to the adjacent missions. Fujishima NO.6 A Fujishima NO.6 that is attacked by a combat giant

Civil War: 1861 is a game of WW1 simulation and can be played from the point of view of either the Union or Confederate, as these forces engage in a series of battles as they try to control the entire American continent. Each side has a number of unique units which can be assigned to your entire army allowing you to customise your force to your own taste. In 1861 the two sides are made up of veteran soldiers, too raw for their own good, but with some potential nonetheless. This is where you come in. Victory will come from your tactical ability and your ability to inspire your men to make decisive efforts. Civil War 1861 comprises 5 unique missions, 3 tutorial campaigns and a bonus campaign. MAIN FEATURES * 5 Unique Civil War Units Infantry with Muzzle Loading Rifles. Infantry with Smooth Bores. Artillery. Generals. Cavalry Units. 3 Different Difficulty Settings 7 Mission Tutorial Campaign. 3 Mission Opening Shots Campaign. Bonus Campaign. Strategic Movement. Map Zoom. Detail Combat Analysis. Flank Attacks. More capable Veteran Units and unreliable raw units. Strategic Combat Maneuvering. You can play the missions as the Union or Confederate side (at your choice) - which battle to play? A Battle can be selected or you can also click on the 'Next Battle' button to skip to another. Civil War has a hidden passcode. Be careful to collect the correct numbers, or your campaign will be over before you know it! TUTORIALS Civil War has a series of tutorials to assist new players to learn how to play the game. Each mission has a brief tutorial explaining the unit selection, special abilities, movement and combat. These tutorials are inter-connected, so selecting a new unit will automatically cause a tutorial to load. Tutorials can be turned off or on at any time. Strategies and Tactics Civil War has a number of unique 'strategic' and 'tactical' commands in use. 'Hold this position until reinforcements arrive' is just one of many units of artillery. In the 'Tactical' menu, the player can 'Turn support back to the main force', 'March', or 'Turn the main force back to this position'. Veteran and raw units now have special abilities which can be useful in certain situations. For example, infantry c9d1549cdd

Aim: Shoot Enemy Moves: On the screen player see all enemies. Shoot the green enemy is the enemy (if you hit him he can't move), if you hit the blue enemy, he will shout, if you hit the yellow enemy, he will fall to the floor and then you can hit him. to escape from the enemies hold the "right" control button and shoot at the enemy that you want to escape. If you hit the enemy twice, it will go to the next to list. If you hit an enemy three times, then that enemy (yellow area) will explode, and a bomb will emerge, player can't move, you will have to hold the "right" control button and shoot the player that is holding the bomb. If you hit the enemy six times, it will die, and you can kill it. Now, this is a rather simple deathmatch game, but the goal is to kill all enemies. NOTE The images are from an in-development build and may differ from the final version. What's new in Train Simulator: ÖBB 1142 Loco Add-On:

: Is Vaccination Part of It? If you think we've seen it all in retail, you ain't seen nothin' yet. Holiday shopping? What? It's not just about boxing up your Lululemon on the last day you can lay eyes on it. Now it's about the nonprofit, the brand within a brand, the nonprofit that is brand, the holiday campaign, the anticipate of a holiday branded product, the searches on Amazon, the influencer event, the blog telling other influencers to buy your shit, and the customer service you receive when you buy it. It's all about brand recognition. It's not just about making money. It's about consumer trust—trust in the brand, trust in the product, trust in the human beings behind the brand. Product is always about brand. But this year, we're rocking the brand like it's never been rocked before. Empathy and trust are undone. You are checked for your trust level. Your health is considered. And many times, money changes hands. No one is talking about trust, right? On Black Friday, my friend Kate pointed out one of her favorite things about going to Safeway (aka Walmart) on Thanksgiving: no Safeway workers were at the checkouts. They were someplace else in the store, presumably helping people. Not a manager, supervisor, or even a cashier. It was an actual human being being helpful. To be honest, given the amount of product that goes in and out of Safeway on that day, that was touching. I didn't know if Safeway managers and team members realized it as much as I did. On the days I shop there, I am sure that there are coworkers doing their best to smile and help as many people as they can. On Black Friday, I wanted to see that again. So, to the best of my ability—nevermind that I have no resources or budget!—I did. This morning when Safeway employees dressed in black, in twos, filed into the store and realized that the majority of the store was closed to human customers and that our cashiers were not normally expected to work this holiday weekend, they cheered with us. The random people there were celebrating a holiday in the active youth sports—or, if you don
