[The effect of candesartan cilexetil on the synthesis of plasminogen activator inhibitor-1 and matrix metalloproteinase-9 in patients with essential hypertension]. To assess the relationship between the blood pressure level and the synthesis of plasminogen activator inhibitor (PAI-1) and matrix metalloproteinase-9 (MMP-9) in patients with essential hypertension. The active center of renin-angiotensin system (RAS) has been found in PAI-1 synthesis, but MMP-9 have not been detected in RAS. The release of two, PAI-1 and MMP-9 are regulated by angiotensin II. So, we investigated whether there was any relationship between the blood pressure level and the synthesis of PAI-1 and MMP-9 in essential hypertensive patients. The hypertensive patients with primary hyperthyroidism or metabolic syndrome were excluded. Among Translate to your language: Bola hey there! We'd love to hear from you, so please feel free to connect with us.Q: Passing an object to a reducer with connect I have created a reducer for the first time and I am trying to pass it an object, the object has a map function, I want to pass that to the reducer so that I can work with it in a map function to filter to get a new array to iterate over. My failed attempt to do so can be seen below: My reducer: const initialState = { foos: [], bar: { list: [] } }; export default (state = initialState, action) => { switch (action.type) { case LIST_ADD_FOO: { const foo = action.foo; const bar = action.bar; bar.list = foo.map(function (e) { return e.id; }) return { ...state, foos: state.foos.concat(action.foo) }; } default: return state; } } My map function in the component this.props.foos.map(function(e){ return e.id; }) A: The simplest approach would be to write this action separately from your reducer and pass in both the Foos and the Bar. export function ADD_FOO(foos: any, bar: any) { return { type: " 6d1f23a050
